NEW YORK, April 2.—Soft-coal mines in twelve states, employing 400,000 men, were idle today in the face of President Roosevelt's message informing wage negotiators in New York that "uninterrupted operation is extremely important."

The President's representative, Dr. John R. Steelman, director of the United States conciliation service, tried hard to effect a settlement in the wage controversy by midnight last night—but failed.

Progress Made
However, Mr. Steelman was able to inform Mr. Roosevelt at midnight—the President had asked a report from him by that hour—that "progress" had been made and that representatives of the miners and operators had agreed to continue negotiations another 48 hours.

The net result of Steelman's strenuous efforts was that the miners' committee, headed by John L. Lewis, president of the United BERLIN, April 2.—Fearing a sudden German blow, residents of Belgrade began a panicky mass evacuation of the Yugoslavian capital today.

The new government of Premier Gen. Dusan Simovic immediately leaped into action to halt the exodus and calm the nation's fears. Simovic issued an order of the day which said:

"Alarming news spread by the foreign press and radio is causing unjustified apprehension.

Reports

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

BERLIN, April 2.—Seizure of German and Italian ships by the United States and other American republics rankled deeply in official German circles today and all indications pointed to future German retaliation by whatever methods prove possible.

German circles expressed the view that the United States was "chief instigator" of the ship seizures carried out by Latin American nations, where the Reich is expected to lodge protests and demands for reparations.

Diplomatic correspondence, organ of the German foreign office, termed the seizures of Axis ships a "new act of violence by the Roosevelt government."

This publication added:
"The North American gangster coup did not succeed 100 per cent. Because German and Italian seamen frustrated the law breakers by means of legitimate counter-measures."

"This, however, does not alter the flagrant breach of international law, carried out in wild west style."

Crack Federal Labor Conciliator
To Attempt Settlement
Of Strike Tieup

(International News Service)

CHESTER, Pa., April 2.—In between long distance telephone calls to the scene of the strike, James Francis Dewey, crack federal labor conciliator, today packed for a hurried trip to Detroit to attempt settlement of the C. I. O. walkout at the Ford Motor company's River Rouge plant.

Dewey, who has been in constant touch with company and C. I. O. leaders in the mid-west city since the strike began, said he would leave early today from his Chester home. "I have been conferring with various people in Detroit trying to set a conference," the labor expert explained. "I'd like to get one arranged before I leave, but I'll be going shortly whether a conference is arranged or not."

Dewey added that he would need additional medical treatment for arthritis which attacked him several weeks ago. "I'll have to get my knee taped up so I can walk," he said.

LONDON, April 2.—Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka of Japan has been recalled to Tokyo and is side-stepping any further commitments to Germany and Italy, it was reported in diplomatic circles today.

Matsuoka, it was understood, originally came to Europe with full power to ally Japan with the axis militarily.

The foreign minister, who is now in Rome, is expected back in Tokyo before the end of the month. Plans for a lengthy tour of all European axis capitals have been cancelled, it was reported, because of recent British success and a hardening American attitude.

By JACK VINCENT

WASHINGTON, April 2.—President Roosevelt and his 11-man national defense mediation board today cleared decks for action as three big labor strikes threatened to seriously delay the nation's rearmament program.

With the President standing by, ready to crack down if necessary, government officials planned to summon coal operators and leaders of union miners to Washington from New York in an attempt to effect a quick reopening of the country's "strike-bound" soft coal mines employing 400,000 men.

As deadlocked wage contract negotiations between coal operators and the CIO's United Mine Workers caused most of the bituminous coal mines to close this morning, another new serious labor problem arose when workers at the Ford Motor company's River Rouge plant were called out on strike.

The CIO's United Automobile Workers union ordered the Ford walkout after 5,000 men went on a sitdown strike. With the motor firm handling $155,000,000 of government contracts, the Labor Department's conciliation service will go into immediate action to attempt settlement of the dispute. Should this means fail, the case most likely will be quickly certified to the mediation board by Secretary of Labor Perkins.

That England can win with the all-out assistance of the United States, and that this country should keep supplies and munitions rolling to Great Britain even if it is necessary to furnish our own bottoms and convoy them, was the statement of National Commander Milo J. Warner, of Toledo, O., when he addressed the posts of the 26th district of the American Legion at the annual National Commander's banquet in the Cathedral last evening.

A record throng of 1,600 persons was served at the dinner, and despite the problem of handling such a vast crowd, the local committees did a splendid job of keeping the program rolling along smoothly and on schedule.

Arrived At Noon
Commander Warner arrived at noon Tuesday, and was the guest of the Perry S. During the afternoon, he visited the Shenando Pottery, and then in the evening, addressed the record crowd at The Cathedral, one of the largest audiences he will be called upon to speak to during his current MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 2.—Bowing to what he termed "mob rule," Gov. Julius P. Heil of Wisconsin ordered the strike-bound Allis-Chalmers plant shut down again today after it was reopened by government request so that work might be resumed on $45,000,000 worth of vital national defense orders.

Closing of the plant, subject of a strike called Jan. 21 by the CIO United Auto Workers, came after serious riots yesterday and last night in which 4,000 strikers and sympathizers battled with police and for a time kept even the governor himself a prisoner in the besieged factory.

"Out Of Control"

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 2.—Save for a few bombs dropped on southwestern England, German air attacks on Britain came to a virtual halt during the night, the air ministry announced today.

"The enemy dropped a few bombs on southwest England yesterday evening," a communiqué said. "There was little damage and no casualties. Otherwise there is nothing to report."

For the 12th successive night Nazi raiders failed to attack London.

An earlier announcement said R. A. F. fighter patrols destroyed two enemy bombers off the Welsh coast late yesterday afternoon.

Official Berlin announcements said German planes yesterday sank four tankers totalling 27,000 tons and damaged two others so seriously they were regarded as lost.

DETROIT, April 2.—Trouble long brewing at the big Ford River Rouge plant in Dearborn stopped today in the discharge of four workmen and by noon an estimated 200 persons had been treated at first aid stations in the first few hours of a general strike which led to the closing of the plant.

Called by the United Automobile Workers C.I.O., the midnight strike call followed a "stoppage" of work late yesterday afternoon which began as an apparent "sit down strike."

DETROIT, April 2.—For the first time in the 38-year existence of the Ford Motor Co., a strike today by the C. I. O. WASHINGTON, April 2.—The White House today reminded governors of strike-ridden states that the president cannot order federal troops to police labor disputes unless a formal appeal is directed to the chief executive.

This declaration was made by White House Secretary Stephen T. Early as he disclosed that a telegram to the president from Gov. Julius Heil of Wisconsin concerning the Allis-Chalmers strike in Milwaukee had been turned over to "interested departments of the government," presumably the O.P.N., Justice, War, Navy and Labor departments.

Boost Unemployment Compensation?

Two Measures Are Considered

House Passes Bill Sponsored By Democrats At Tuesday Session

REPUBLICAN BILL BEFORE SENATE

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, April 2.—Liberalization of the state's unemployment compensation laws to provide for a wider distribution of the $150,000,000 now in the jobless fund appeared headed for a joint legislative conference committee.

The Democratic Cohen-O'Neill bill enacted by the house yesterday by a vote of 139 to 44 was forwarded to the senate where it will remain in committee pending passage of a similar, but less liberal measure sponsored by the Republican-controlled joint state government commission.

Go To Committee

Following passage of the senate bill which is sponsored by Senators Heyburn, Dent, Miller and Wilson, the two measures are expected to go to a joint committee of both houses where an attempt will be made to report out a compromise bill satisfactory to both sides.

The Democratic bill, for which upwards of 13 Republicans voted, provides for an increase in the minimum payments of unemployed workers of from $7.50 to $10 a week, boosts the maximum weekly payments from $15 to $20, extends payments from 13 to 16 weeks in a year, and reduces the waiting period before payments can be received from three weeks to one week.

The senate bill, which was re-committed for further amendment yesterday after receiving first reading, provides for an increase in the minimum weekly payments of from $7.50 to $8 and reduces the waiting period to two weeks.

The joint state government commission estimated that its amendments would create unemployment benefits for approximately $5,000,000. Although no figures were released by the Democratic sponsors of the house bill, Rep. E. Cohen (D) Philadelphia, said an "ample cushion" would be retained in the fund.

The General Assembly met today for the concluding session of its 12th week of deliberations. (There will be four sessions a week in the house beginning next Monday.)

"The situation is absolutely out of control," Gov. Heil informed the president. "I am notifying you of this situation in order that you may direct such action as you deem advisable."

Gov. Heil's telegram to the president was interpreted as an appeal for federal troops should the government desire the plant reopened. Last evening, before deciding to close the factory after a conference with officials of the company and police heads, the governor appealed directly to Brig. Gen. Charles H. Bonesteel, commander of the sixth army corps, for 5,000 soldiers from Fort Sheridan. Gen. Bonesteel, however, informed the governor only the president could call out federal troops.

bidden to abandon its homes. If evacuation becomes necessary the government will handle it."

At the same time the government continued its efforts to unify the nation for whatever the future may bring.

A representative of Vladimir Mack, Croat leader, conferred with Simovic to recognize the Serb-Croat treaty of 1939, which ended a long feud between these two sections of Yugoslavia.

In addition, it was reported, Simovic promised there would be no formation of a Serbian "Hegemonic government" with anti-Croat policies.

Seek Peaceful Understanding

Efforts to reach a peaceful understanding through the good offices of Premier Mussolini continued, but officials became increasingly pessimistic regarding its chances of success in view of the hardening attitude of the Reich.

Mussolini expressed willingness to receive Simovic and Yugoslavian Foreign Minister Momicio Nincic in Rome after Japanese Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka leaves the Italian capital.

Young King Peter, in an interview with Yugoslav correspondents, said he still hoped for peace.

"I hope war can be avoided," the 17-year-old monarch declared. "But if it comes to fighting I shall fight myself, leading my army."

Assurances that the United States would extend material aid to Yugoslavia in the event of a German attack spurred the Belgrade regime in its defensive measures, which were rushed in the face of German warnings.

Foreign Minister Nincic had two long telephone conversations with the Yugoslav legation in Washington last night.

longer distances, it was stated, the R. A. F. now is only beginning to carry a real "blitz" back to Germany.

Information from these and other sources shows that during the first three weeks of March the R. A. F. carried out three heavy raids on the German industrial city of Cologne in the Rhineland and one light and two heavy raids on Berlin.

One of the attacks on the German capital, according to this information, seriously disrupted Berlin's subway system.

Tremendous Damage

In addition, British raids on Hannover, Bremen and Hamburg are definitely known, according to the R. A. F., to have caused tremendous damage to the German war effort—especially to transportation facilities.

One well informed source declared:

"Britain now is using some of the biggest and fastest bombers in the world with bombs equal in size and weight to anything the Nazis have dropped. These bombs will find targets in Berlin and elsewhere."

term as head of the greatest organization of World War veterans with a membership of over a million men.

He congratulated the officers and members of the Legion in the local area upon their splendid record and devotion to the principles of the American Legion, and General Chairman Ches C. Sweeney and his committee in arranging such a splendid meeting.

Guests Presented

During the banquet, the many distinguished guests present were introduced by H. L. Wissner and William Bishop, of the Beaver Valley, with Thomas H. Freese Jr., of Post 117 at Butler presiding as toastmaster.

Mayor Charles B. Mayor welcomed the visitors to the city, and assured them that they would be treated cordially and hospitably during their stay here. The invocation was delivered by Dr. John J. McVaine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and pep singing during the meeting was led by Emory Davis, member of the Mercer post, with Miss Leta Johns at the piano.

The distinguished guest list was headed by Post Department Commanders, W. F. Smith, P. E. Gwyn, Department Adjutant Edward A. Linsky, Judge Vincent Carroll, Chairman of National Defense; Harvey R. Bowman, Department Sergeant; Officer Ray B. Johnston, Grand Correspondent of the 40 and 8; Mrs. LeRoy Midelman, state president of the 8 and 40; and district and post commanders.

Dinner Program

Dennis E. Cain, of Ellwood City Post, Past Commander of the 26th District, served as toastmaster of the program following the dinner in the main auditorium of the Cathedral. He was introduced by District Commander J. H. Collins, Musical sections were given by the Rochester post band and drum corps, the Perry S. Gaston Post Cadet band, and the Schubert Sextette of this city. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. Richard Booth, of Beaver Falls, chaplain of the Col. Joseph Thompson Post, of Beaver Falls.

As a back-drop to what he had to say on National Defense, Commander J. H. Collins suggested five standards which should govern us in the solution of our present national and international problems.

First—that we should consider the interests of the United States as paramount, and do nothing to destroy the national integrity or identity of our own country.

Second—in the preparation of national defenses and in combating those things threatening to destroy this country, that we preserve the fundamental concepts of our democratic form of government.

Third—that we should cast aside all partisanship, selfish viewpoints, and motives.

Fourth—that we should be loyal to all elected officers, from the President down to the state, and community officials, for upon them rests the burden of our national defense efforts.

Fifth—that we should face the facts as they are, and not as we would like to have them. We should be realistic even though it brings us many a twinge.

Keep War From Shores

He explained that the American Legion at its last national convention in Boston, expressed the desire and determination to keep war from our shores by giving all possible aid to Britain and the nations aligned with her, and since then has marshaled its forces for total national defense.

It was because of this, that the national executive committee ordered a four-man mission composed of P. A. S. Commander Franklin D'Olier, Major General Parker, retired, and Joseph Dietrich, Warner's aide, to visit England for the purpose of studying conditions.

On its return, the mission reported to the national committee of the American Legion.

The meeting was attended by 10 past national commanders, five of whom: Ray Murphy of Iowa, Harry Colmery of Kansas, Sanford MacNider of Iowa, John Quinn of California, and Franklin D'Olier of New Jersey, drafted a resolution which was adopted unanimously. This resolution is the collective and considered opinion and judgment of the American Legion.

Basing its action on the 1940 Boston national convention resolution the committee quoted the Boston convention where that body went on record by saying:

"That we should at this time give all practicable aid to Great Britain and those aligned with her in their fight for freedom."

But in this special meeting the national executive committee, taking into consideration the state of national affairs, created by the passage of the lend-lease bill, and associating such a national action with the reports of our mission definitely gave recognition to the belief that aid to Great Britain should be delivered to her now."

To do less than that is to stultify our efforts and to give and lend encouragement to the aggressor nations whose dictatorial aims we despise.

Up To Government

To our government we leave the means of making the delivery. But we are convinced there is little of common sense in producing the guns that Great Britain needs—now—if those materials are to be left waiting upon the docks at our ports, or left as a monument to our mistaken effort at the bottom of the Atlantic.

At all times all of us of the American Legion who have been privileged to fight for our flag and country are thinking and acting solely in the interest of the United States, first, last and always," he said.

He told of the many places visited and of some of the things observed. He praised the morale of the people of England, which is determined it will not lose this war, and of the splendid part being taken by the women, who fill many positions of trust in the defense system. As one woman leader expressed it, "Why shouldn't we women die as well as the men?" shows the remarkable determination of the British.

England has a home guard army of a million and three-quarters composed of the older men of the nation, many of them war veterans, and has virtually made herself impregnable to invasion, he stated. The civilian population is unselfishly sacrificing and courageously carrying on, Britain realizes, however, despite its determination, that it cannot win unless its lifeline of supplies is kept open. Commander Warner said that "whatever steps are necessary to be taken to deliver these supplies, let it be done and done promptly. While every member of the American Legion is a lover of peace, yet there are some things worse than dishonorable peace and we don't like to think of it. There is no place in destiny for a craven nation."

"A new and great destiny lies ahead of us as a nation. In meeting that destiny each and everyone of us should be able to courageously face the facts and strive honestly and earnestly for the complete supremacy and preservation of the basic principles of our form of government. Let all of us be able to say to ourselves, 'I am doing my full share, my bit. I am being honest with myself, my country, and my God. I am not holding out on any of them. Doing that, we will go forward—a great nation of great people, true to our tradition and our trust,' he said in conclusion.

Bring Greetings

During the auditorium program, greetings were brought by Mrs. Beryl Beaver of Dravosburg, department president of the American Legion Auxiliary in Pennsylvania; H. S. Blitzer, Chief de Gaulle of the 40 and 8; and Department Commander Charles S. Cook, who in a brief but able talk, summed up the spirit of the American Legion as the determination that "its members would rather die on their feet than serve on their knees." He promised the full cooperation of the department of Pennsylvania for everything that would strengthen the defense of our country.

MEDIATION BOARD CLEARS FOR ACTION IN MAJOR STRIKES

board. Violence in the 11-week-old strike was so great that the plant was ordered closed until further notice, despite recent appeals of Secretary of the Navy Knox and Defense Director William S. Knudsen to stay open.

Should conferences today fail to end the coal deadlock which ultimately may disrupt at least 80 per cent of all national defense production, it was believed that this case, too, would be speedily certified to the board.

Birthday Party

Thomas G. McCormick was honored on his birthday anniversary Monday evening, when a group of friends and relatives gathered in his home, Harlansburg.

The evening hours were spent informally with games and card contests, and at a later hour a dainty lunch was served. Assisting Mrs. McCormick were Mrs. Eleanor Magill and Mrs. Bessie McDougal.

Mr. McCormick was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts.

Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kinder, Barkeyville; Mr. and Mrs. Lee McGill and daughter, Helen, Blaine; and Dorothy of Sandy Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Magill, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Magill of Harrisville; Mr. and Mrs. Elsin McConnell.

Many lovely handkerchiefs were received by the hostess in remembrance of her birthday anniversary. Tasty refreshments were served by the hostess at a late hour, assisted by Mrs. McConnell.

On April 10 Mrs. L. Sullivan will receive the group in her home on North Beaver street.

Pythian Sisters

The regular meeting of Castle Temple No. 37, Pythian Sisters, was held in Malta hall Tuesday evening.

Past chiefs of the temple filled the following offices: Most excellent chief, Zola Dick; excellent senior Leona Patterson; excellent junior, Flora Sowash; past chief, Alice Taylor; mistress of finance, Ethel Douglas; mistress of records and correspondence, Jennie Drummond; manager, Myrtle Hildebrand; protector, Emma Maxwell; guard, Bee Horchler, and musician, Dorothy Maxwell.

Plans were made to entertain the Robert Blum lodge on April 15, and the committee in charge that evening will be Leona Patterson, Stella Gibson, Beatrice Horchler, Ethel Rick, Pearl Cook and Anna Coulthard.

Games were enjoyed, after which tasty refreshments were served.

George McDougal, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Minor, Grove City; Mrs. Catherine McCormick, Slippery Rock; Mr. and Mrs. M. Monney, Grove City.

Board Meeting

A board meeting of the New Castle Chapter of Hadassah will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Jacob Silverman, at 330 Park avenue.

HITLER FACES MOUNTING PROBLEMS

(From Philadelphia Inquirer)

FOR the time being, at least, there has been a change in what might be called the "moral climate" of the war.

The world still awaits furious onslaughts by Hitler in one or more theatres of action. But the elements of surprise and initiative no longer belong exclusively to the Nazis.

A year ago this month the German Fuehrer began his amazing western blitzkrieg by occupying Denmark and Norway. From that time until the fall of France he followed one smashing surprise with another. As summer died he blasted Britain with a rain of bombs, but Britain still stood.

As April, 1941, dawns, however, Hitler has just experienced a severe diplomatic setback in Yugoslavia and his Axis partner, Mussolini, has suffered catastrophic losses on land and sea.

The Yugoslav drama, necessarily, has not yet been played to a finish. If the new Yugoslav Government persists in holding out against the Axis adherence pact signed in Vienna last week, the courageous country doubtless will be given a treatment of Nazi vengeance.

But if so, Hitler will not be proceeding according to his prearranged plan. His program unquestionably specified diplomatic advances, on all points, to the Greek border. If he has to fight the Yugoslavs, his hand will have been called, necessitating a revision of his schedule. To a conqueror on the march, delays and changes of policy are dangerous.

Whatever time is taken by Hitler for the solution of his growing Balkan problems is time gained by the British on their of an all-out attack is precious to England and also the United embattled island. Every day that passes without the beginning States, committed to defense of Britain as a factor in the defense of America.

Close upon the invigorating news of the Yugoslav revolt against Hitler came tidings of the British fleet's spectacular victory over Italian warships in the Ionian Sea. This victory strengthens British control of the Mediterranean and, because of Mussolini's rapidly weakening status in the war, may force Hitler into a defensive campaign in the Mediterranean area.

Otherwise, the establishment of unchallenged domination of the Mediterranean by the British should permit the Admiralty to shift some of its naval units to the Battle of the Atlantic, in which Hitler's submarines remain a grave factor.

Britain's need of merchant tonnage to maintain a flow of war materials from the United States is so great that the presence of as many English warships in the Atlantic as can be rallied to guard the sea lanes is an imperative requirement.

But meanwhile the British at home have not been idly waiting for Hitler to attack them with all his frenzied might. Assured by passage of the American Lease-Lend bill of an increased flow of warplanes, they have been systematically bombing Germany, the German-occupied low countries, France and the invasion ports on the channel and the North Sea.

At the same time they are bolstering the Greeks not only for defense against a German blow but for a possible drive to force the Italians out of Albania. In East Africa the British have been administering one defeat after another to Mussolini's shattered forces.

All of this, together with the known restiveness of the populations of some of the Nazi-kidnaped countries, sums up to the certainty that, as of today, there has been a slight but perceptible change in the fortunes of this war.

Hitler is not now making situations. He is trying to meet them. His armed might is scattered across Europe, in spots thinly. He may unleash further startling surprises. He may again seize the initiative. But he faces difficulties, among them the stern fact of vast American aid for Britain.

One may only imagine the deep thoughts of Japan's Foreign Minister, Mr. Matsuoaka, as he arrived in Rome after his Berlin visit, upon realizing that his country is associated with an Axis that is now undergoing diplomatic, military and naval reverses.

If Mr. Matsuoaka is as astute as he is credited with being, his observations on his travels should lead him to the conclusion that peace in the Pacific and renewed friendship with the United States wouldn't be such bad policies, after all.

BASES VALUABLE WHEN FINISHED

Signing by Winston Churchill and Ambassador Winant of leases for naval and air sites on the series of British Atlantic bases granted to this country clears the way for their construction, with not too much time remaining if they are to be finished as hoped for by the first of next year.

Millions have been set aside by the President or appropriated by Congress for both land and naval establishments on all the bases. In many cases contracts have been let and presumably contractors have been busy gathering material and concluding other preparations. In addition plans have been worked out to equip the bases with fast boats, and fleets of fighter planes and bombers.

Actual start of work has been deferred until questions of land ownership and allocation could be worked out between our own and the British government, so that an enormous part of the task of making the new bases effective for defense is ahead of us.

Naval and military men have agreed that completion of this big defense job will add immeasurably to our power to defend the Western Hemisphere. These bases will be valuable when finished, but only when finished, and that can't be too soon.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PROMOTING INTELLIGENT PARENTHOOD

Those who have been reading this column know that I have for years encouraged parents to band themselves together in small groups to study ways and means of becoming better parents. The increasing number of such study groups together with the large number of parents who strive individually by thought and study at home to increase their skill and wisdom in intelligent parenthood has been heartening to me.

This movement toward self-improvement in parenthood began with such organizations as the Child Study Association of America, National Congress of Parents and Teachers, the American Association of University Women, etc. Strangely enough, the church was not among the first in this worthy movement, nor is it the country over, very active now in this direction. Yet it would seem that the church, in its very nature, should be foremost in furthering better parenthood and more wholesome family life.

However, one finds here and there, very active and early efforts through religious organizations. To illustrate, The Women's Interdenominational Union of Philadelphia, Pa., under the leadership of the far-seeing Mrs. Jennie Griffith, has carried on a program for many years through which the churches of various faiths have conducted study groups in the respective local churches. For several years these churches have co-operated in a two-day institute on family life. Indeed, it was my privilege, some years ago, to participate in two of these institutes there. Also, on March 11 and 12 of this year, Mrs. Myers and I together conducted an institute for this city-wide interdenominational group.

Mothers' Clubs
Last December we met the combined membership of the mothers' clubs of the church of Canton, Ill., where practically every Protestant church has such a club. From Mrs. Florence B. Hayes who founded the first such club in that city I heard the following:

"The club was begun to meet a special need, the problem of irregular Sunday school attendance. A program was devised for entertaining and guiding the young children during the meetings. During the discussions a mother would ask for the opinions of others on a special problem of her own. Mothers from other churches came to visit our club and joined it, but eventually their home churches organized their own mothers' clubs."

"One mothers' club has a large circulating library. Occasionally an open date is arranged and the public is invited to hear some person of authority lecture on a subject of interest to all parents."

"Why shouldn't there be a mothers' club in every church which also would include fathers?"

The World and the Mud Puddles

NEW SWISS NAVY.

A Swiss vessel, loaded at Genoa, docked at New York the other day weighed down by the Pilgrimage with a million-dollar cargo of Swiss goods—watches, precision instruments and cheese. The Swiss Navy is no longer an old joke but a new fact.

As if a million-dollar cargo were not proof that Europe's little mountain republic can deliver the goods over the sea, along with the greatest of maritime powers, the vessel was skippered by a man who ably lived up to an old tradition of the sea. His yarns were among the oddest told by any sea dog to enter New York Harbor this year. "On the crossing," said the Swiss skipper, "the wind was so violent that it blew us backwards for twenty-eight hours and fifty-four miles—right backwards in a straight line."

Switzerland's new merchant marine, however, is not an amusing luxury but a necessity. War conditions have almost completely disrupted the shipping services of other nations on which she depended. Since exports play a vital role in the Swiss economy, that country months ago methodically went about chartering as many ships as it could find and put to use.

As a result, the thrifty, foresighted Swiss nation has safeguarded its trade lifelines to overseas lands even in the midst of war. And it has laid to rest for all time the old joke about the Swiss Navy. The Switzer now sail the seven seas with the best of them!

RESEMBLANCE

I think it's this way: Must be so. 'Tis in His image here we grow. And in our conduct all we can see. The God we've struggled like to be. The God we worship here survives. Reflected in our daily lives.

I think it's this way: God is part of Every human mind and heart. And not in Heaven's remotest spot, Is worshiped there or quite forgot. Is seen, though little understood, In every motive that is good.

I think it's this way: All men grow God's image by the love they show. That neither hymn, nor prayer, nor creed.

Proves God so well as simple deed. That in our characters men see. Just what we think our God must be.

One of our hotel-manager friends was telling us about the trouble hotels have in keeping down losses from souvenir hunters. This reminded us of a little happening when we attended a convention.

The head of the delegation came down to pay the crowd's bill after the convention broke up. Just as he reached for his pocketbook a whole flock of knives, forks, spoons, salt cellars and other tableware bounced over the floor and scattered over the floor.

He was not abashed.

Just as they reached the bottom of their glasses the friend remarked, "Well, I'll have to be going. Got to get home and do my chores."
"What chores?" asked A. C.
"Beer, please," said the other.

What's What At A Glance

Selective Service Big Task
Careful Judgment Needed
Some Criticisms Are Heard

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, April 2—

SELECTIVE SERVICES administration is somewhat criticized for deferring a considerably larger proportion of military eligibles than draft boards did at the time of Uncle Sam's entrance into the last World war.

Humph, shorts Maj. Joseph F. Battle of the system's Washington headquarters, in answer to this fault-finding. "Selective Service means INTELLIGENT selection. It means also the selection of those best fitted to maintain our armed forces by continued performances of necessary civilian tasks."

Major Battle's a specialist on the subject. His occupational adviser at Selective Service headquarters, as well as chief of the assistant war secretary office's Selective Service section. He's addicted to expressions like a contemptuous "Humph!" He's blunt almost to brusqueness. He doesn't chat long, however, without revealing an innate kindness, sense of humor and understanding beneath his air of professional austerity. And his practical patriotism has behind it a background of approximately 25 years service with our armed forces and more than eight years of study and planning in connection with the Selective Service system.

"The immediate and increasingly urgent requirement for national defense," continues the major, "is speedier production of military material and supplies. As this need grows and the supply of skilled workers is depleted, it can only be met by calling on the boys who can handle a monkey wrench—the boys on the farms and in the small towns."

Good Judgment Needed

"For this reason, and because the United States may have to become the breadbasket as well as the arsenal of embattled democracy, local boards in such vicinities should be extremely careful not to make military selection of lads whose skill and aptitude will soon be sorely needed in factories or on the land. While this isn't to say that all mechanics or farm boys should be deferred, it is to say that good judgment is called for. We mustn't cripple the country's industrially and agriculturally defensive capacity, in trying to build up its armed forces. Soldiers have to have arms, food and clothes as well as training."

And serious consideration is being given to decentralizing production of aircraft, ordnance and military material generally. The trend isn't only to turn out the manufacture of parts and accessories to shops in our smaller cities and towns; it likewise is to build new plants in such localities—for safety from sabotage, for convenience in transportation and to provide employment for rural labor in slack seasons.

"Much already has been done in that direction in connection with air craft production. Assembly plants are being set up in the central states, to which parts are being shipped from our large eastern, midwestern and western industrial centers."

"Having set these smaller plants a-going, we've got to have hands to man 'em."

Replying to complaint that today's local boards are freer with deferments than the last war's boards were, the major quotes Provost Marshal General Crowder, who administered that draft to the effect that there was an alarm clock curfew in the spring of 1914, because boards then were too strict in interpreting the term "necessary enterprise"—that is, jobs that men had better have been left at home to attend to.

Last War's Mistakes

"Why, during the first World war," recalls the major, "it was necessary to furnish certain men from our armed forces, who were indispensable to agriculture and industry to enable 'em to return to their civil pursuits to prevent a supply breakdown."

"We mustn't repeat the last war's mistakes. We must see that essential men remain at the production of the things our soldiers and civilians can't do without, possibly."

Then there's the item of dependency. It generally is assumed that dependents are a Selective Service registrant's wife and children exclusively, if he hasn't got 'em he hasn't any dependents to entitle him to deferment. "It's liable to be the other way about," comments Major Battle. "Quite often a farmer in particular is dependent upon his son or sons to help him till his acres, because he can't afford to hire men to replace them."

Bible Thought For Today

Resolve in the Lord always, and again I say, Rejoice. Let your forbearance be known unto all men. The Lord is at hand. In nothing be anxious, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.—Phil. 4:4-7.

A Three-Thumbed Idea

WASHINGTON, April 2.

A FEW days ago there was an excellent outbreak of publicity from New Deal sources proclaiming the subordination of the Office of Production Management (OPM) to the Office of Emergency Management (OEM). From now out, it was declared, the OEM, with Mr. McReynolds, one of the White House secretaries, directly representing the President, and Mr. Sidney Sherwood as director, would dominate the whole defense organization.

It now appears that this was not in accord with the facts; that the 11-year businessmen have not been the real directing head at the defense organization is still plain to the eye. No such thing has ever been contemplated. Neither Mr. Sherwood nor Mr. McReynolds will figure any more importantly in the future than they have in the past. And the warning sent out by one of the better known of the news service, that they had better get acquainted right away with OEM, was based on a complete misconception.

IT is gratifying that this situation which for a while promised greatly to add to the general confusion of the Washington scene, has been at least partially cleared up without having to wait for Mr. Roosevelt's return. It is, of course, the sort of mixup to be expected from a set-up in which authority is not clearly defined and no single boss designated. The need for coordination and a single directing head is very great, perhaps it will be helpful in making clear this need to present the list of the various defense agencies created in the last few months, all

Red Cross To Aid Prisoners Of War By Nationalities

National Red Cross Will Co-operate With Nationally Groups In Matter

Ralph F. Davis, chairman of the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, has received information from national headquarters of the cooperation of the American Red Cross with nationality groups for the relief of the prisoners of war.

Assistance to prisoners of war is traditionally a Red Cross function. The Red Cross originated relief to individual prisoners by making it possible for friends or relatives in this country to send an individual food parcel. The success of this program was immediate and brought requests from various nationality groups who wished to provide relief to prisoners of war of particular nationalities.

Mr. Davis calls attention to all nationality groups in Lawrence county desiring to avail themselves of this privilege, are requested to contact the local chapter. The Lawrence county chapter, through its national office, is preparing to accept from nationality groups for the relief of unidentified prisoners of war of designated nationalities, the following contributions:

(1) Funds for the purchase of American Red Cross standard food packages to be delivered on their behalf to the nearest prisoners of a particular nationality.

(2) Funds for the purchase of collective shipments of needed comfort supplies such as soap, shoes, underwear, or shirts to be delivered on their behalf to the nearest prisoners of a particular nationality.

(3) Articles of new clothing suitable for prisoners of war collective shipments such as sweaters, socks or mittens which can be made by members of such groups. Since government purchased materials cannot in any case be given to national-ally groups for this type of production, they should be prepared to supply their own materials for any production of articles for prisoners. The chapter is unable to accept individual packages for prisoners prepared by interested individuals or groups.

Mr. Davis points out that before the chapter can accept clothing shipments from nationality groups, the group should send an itemized list to the chapter and it will be sent on to the national office for approval. If the list is approved, the chapter will be supplied with packing and shipping instructions and will be responsible for the safe shipment of these packages.

of which are functioning independently but all of which, technically, are classified as under the OEM, which, as it turns out, does not mean very much. This list, which has not appeared before, is printed in the current issue of Defense, the weekly bulletin issued by Mr. Robert W. Horton, who is in charge of publicity. There is no better way to get the picture than reading the list.

HERE it is, alphabetically arranged:

Agricultural Division of the Advisory Commission—Chester Dove, commissioner.

Central Administrative Services—Sidley Sherwood, director.

Consumer Division of the Advisory Commission—Harriet Elliott, commissioner.

Commercial and Cultural Relations Between the American Republics—Nelson Rockefeller, coordinator.

Defense Communications Board—James Lawrence Fly, chairman.

Defense Housing Division—C. F. Palmer, coordinator.

Health, Welfare, Nutrition, Recreation and Related Activities—Paul V. McNutt, coordinator.

Information Division—Robert W. Horton, director.

National Defense Mediation Board—Clarence Dykstra, chairman.

National Defense Research Committee—Dr. Vannevar Bush, chairman.

Price Stabilization Division of Advisory Commission—Leon Henderson, commissioner.

State and Local Cooperation—Frank Bane, director.

Transportation Division of the Advisory Commission—Ralph Budd, commissioner.

Office of Production Management—William S. Kufner, director general. Sidney Hillman, associate director general. Secretary of Navy Frank Knox; Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson; Herbert Emmerich, secretary; John Lord O'Brien, general counsel.

Labor Division—Sidney Hillman, director.

Priorities Division—Edward R. Stettinius, director.

Purchases Division—Donald M. Nelson, director.

Research and Statistics Bureau—Stacy May, chief.

THAT is the setup as officially presented. Of course, under every one of these divisions there are subdivisions, and each subdivision has its office force, secretaries, investigators and experts. No complete estimate of the number of people in the organization has been made. Some say several thousand. No one knows. What many of those inside the machine—little fellows as well as big—do know is that it is not built for either speed, efficiency or economy.

THEY know that there is duplication, overlapping and immense confusion. Soon or late, the President will have to make another readjustment. One usually well-informed authority asserts that this will be done right after his return and that the OEM still is "a service and reporting agency for the White House without a policy-making head." It seems to use the OEM to subordinate the $1-a-year men and turn the whole business over to the New Dealers. Just how this three-thumbed idea got started no one seems to know. But that is the case with a good many other ideas of the sort in Washington.

Hints On Etiquette

If you are a young man and you call a girl friend and ask her for a date for a certain evening, make it plain to her what type of date it is to be. She will want to know so that she can dress appropriately.

CIVIL SERVICE POSTS OPEN

Three new Civil Service openings were announced by the government today. They include these posts: Shipyard inspector, various fields, with salaries ranging from $2,300 to $3,800 a year with the United States Maritime Commission; commodity exchange specialist, with salaries ranging from $2,600 to $4,600 a year, with the Commodity Exchange Administration, Department of Agriculture; Repairman for power sewing machines are needed at the Philadelphia quartermaster depot.

John Garman to Tony Ambrosia, Mahoning township, $901.

Samuel R. Pistacchio to Floyd V. Scheidmantle, Ellwood City, $1.

J. W. Paterson of Pulaski township, was appointed high constable of the township on Tuesday morning, replacing Robert I. McClenahan, recently deceased. Mr. Paterson was appointed by Judge Charles Matthews, Jr., upon petition of citizens of the township. Deputy Prothonotary Elmer Nesbitt administered the oath to Constable Paterson. Now all he needs is a badge.

Naturalization court resumed in court room number two on Tuesday morning with a comparatively light list of applicants. Herman Williams and George P. Spine sat as examiners with Examiner McDougall working in the prothonotary's office after the preliminary examination has been held.

County Solicitor William McElwee Jr. was in Harrisburg on Tuesday attending a meeting of the legislative committee of the County Commissioners' Association.

A REPORT to America

The Ford Motor Company's business has always been to serve the needs of the American people. In providing them with low-cost transportation for the past 38 years, we have developed one of the country's largest and most useful industrial units. During a national emergency, we feel that these facilities should be devoted without reserve to our country's needs. Toward that end we started rolling months ago, with these results:

1 A $21,000,000 Ford airplane engine factory, started only 6 months ago, is nearly completed. Production will start with an initial order for 4,236 eighteen cylinder, air-cooled, double-row, radial engines.

2 We are building a new $800,000 Ford magnesium alloy foundry, one of the few in the country. It is already producing lightweight airplane engine castings.

3 Army reconnaissance cars—military vehicles of an entirely new type—are rolling off special Ford assembly lines at the rate of more than 600 a month. We have produced Army staff cars and bomber service trucks.

4 The government has given the "go-ahead" and work is now under way for the fast construction of an $11,000,000 Ford plant to produce bomber airframe assemblies by mass production methods.

5 Several months ago work was started, on our own initiative, on an entirely new 1500 horsepower airplane engine especially designed for mass production. This engine is now in the test stage and plans are being developed for producing it in large quantities when and if needed.

6 A Ford aircraft apprentice school has been established, to train 2000 students at a time.

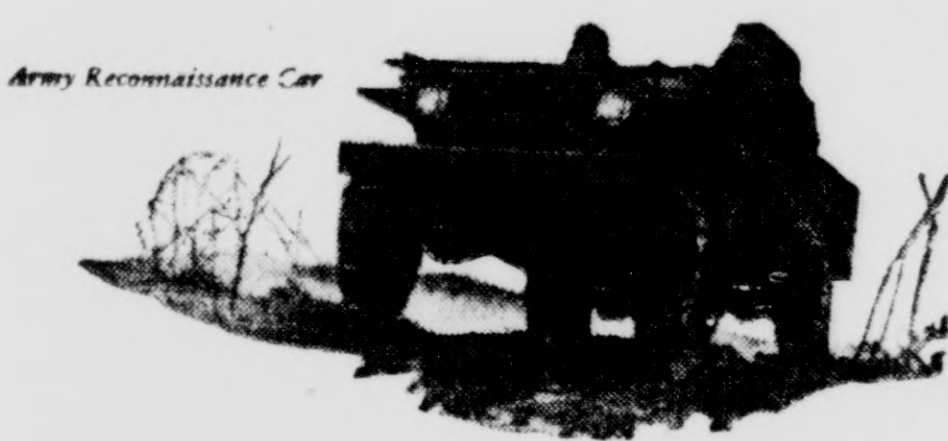

That is a report of progress to date.

The experience and facilities of this company can be used to do much of the job which America now needs to get done in a hurry.

Our way of working, which avoids all possible red tape, enables us to get results and get them fast. This benefits users of our products and workers who produce them.

We are ready to make anything we know how to make, to make it to the limit of our capacity if need be, to make it as fast as we can go, and to start the next job whenever our country asks us to. And to this end, we know we have the full confidence and loyal support of the workmen throughout our plants.

Lenten Services At St. Andrew's

St. Andrew's Episcopal church announces the following services for the sixth Thursday in Lent, April 3: 10 a. m. holy communion, with special "intentions" of thankfulness for our Lord's passion for mankind; 4:30 p. m. children's teaching service; 7:30 p. m. Litany and sermon, officiant, Rev. Charles J. Burton; preacher, Rev. Paul Tarcy, pastor of Hungarian Baptist church.

Rev. Mr. Tarcy is one of the younger clergy in New Castle serving Hungarian Baptists of New Castle and vicinity. He is the last of the special preachers from other Christian communions who have been bringing the Lenten message at mid-week services.

Announcement is made that on Sunday evening, May 4, Rabbi Norman Diamond will be the preacher on the topic, "Jesus From a Jewish Viewpoint".

This week is Passion Week in Lent.

To the man or woman with a New Job

who wants a CASH LOAN of $25 to $250 or more

WE BELIEVE in the future of America. We believe in the honesty and integrity of the American worker. And we are willing to back our faith with our money. We are prepared to lend $50,000 to men and women in this community who are now working.

Naturally, any family whose bread-winner has been unemployed for some time finds savings gone and bills accumulated. Now that there will be a steady income again, a breathing spell is needed... to take care of old bills and to buy new things until income can catch up.

To such folks the PERSONAL FINANCE CO. makes this suggestion. If you want $25 to $250 or more and can repay a loan in small monthly instalments, whether you have a new job or an old one come in and see us today. Tell us who you are and where you're employed. Then let us work out a loan plan that enables you to catch up and still leaves most of your income for yourself. If not convenient for you to come in, you can get full information, or make application, by phone.

PERSONAL FINANCE CO. is located at 204 E. Washington St., Second Floor, over Peoples Drug Store. Phone 2100. J. J. Alexander, manager.

Five Are Killed In Mine Clash In Kentucky

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
HARLAN, Ky., April 2.—Five men were killed today and four more injured in gun play between CIO United Mine Workers of America pickets and non-unionists.

The five were identified as unionists. The clash occurred at the Cummins Creek Coal Co. five miles from Harlan, when the pickets attempted to storm the commissary of the mine.

Men inside the building, apparently non-unionists, cut loose with a volley of gunfire and the strikers replied. It was not known whether any one inside the structure was killed or hurt.

New Castle's biggest "hotel" job was in progress today.

A force of 50 young men and women labored to get this assignment. Register beds enough to sleep the 4,000 expected Friday, April 19, for the finals of the Pennsylvania Forensic and Music League.

The Greater New Castle Association is supervising the search for sleeping space. Today the organization was told by the census-takers that "it seemed everybody was away from home this morning," and they planned return visits this afternoon. They'll finish their job Thursday.

James W. Elder, assistant to Arthur H. Andrews, GNCA executive vice president, is supervising the corps of 50 from the Department of Economics and Business Administration at Westminster.

Freedom isn't absolute. Nobody is free to ignore the law except a multimillionaire and organized workers.

PURSE BANDITS BELIEVED TAKEN

Pair Arrested For Ohio Crimes
Believed To Have Operated
In New Castle

Chief of Police Willis McMullen stated today that he has not yet been advised whether two men, one of them whom is held in Kalamazoo, Mich., and the other at Coshocton, O., for purse-snatching and suspected of the slaying of a woman recently in Youngstown, are the persons who slugged and robbed a North Hill woman in Hillcrest avenue, some weeks ago.

According to reports from Youngstown, Mrs. Margaret Foley was shot to death in Youngstown, March 10, when she resisted a youth who tried to snatch her purse.

Two girls held in Cambridge, O., as highway robbery accessories charged that one of their two men companions killed Mrs. Foley. It was asserted by Youngstown's police authorities.

One of the men now is held at Kalamazoo, Mich., on charges of robbing women. However, the second escaped and was arrested later at Coshocton, O.

It is likely Chief McMullen will ask Ohio authorities to question the youths concerning the Hillcrest avenue attack as it was believed at that time that the attack here was committed by a roving pair of bandits.

City Foresters Busy Season Now Launched

Trees Being Planted, Flower
Beds Prepared, Tennis Courts
And Parks Improved

Owen Fox, city forester, on Tuesday, planted butternut and black birch trees in Gaston park, and also stated that work began today on several tennis courts at that place.

He also stated that new flower beds were made in the west section of the Public Square park and the grass plots there will be topdressed and reseeded next week.

Fox stated that the butternut and walnut trees planted during the administration of Louis Genkiner as director of parks, have been bearing nuts for the past two years. Some of the trees now are 20 feet tall. The trees planted along The Narrows at that time did not do very well.

The forester stated that Evergreens bought through Parks Director Joseph D. Alexander for the city are doing nicely. They were placed not only at Gaston park and along Rural avenue and Neshannock boulevard but also on other city-owned plots.

Fox also reported that a large number of mulberry trees have been planted to provide food for birds.

Manufacturers fool themselves. If a thing sells, they think people like it, whereas people buy it reluctantly because they are given no choice.

Yugoslavia Sends Message To Soviet

Air Attache Enroute To Moscow With Special Message
For Molotov

(International News Service)
ISTANBUL, April 2.—Bearing the new Yugoslavia air attache to Moscow with a special message for Soviet Premier and Foreign Commissioner V. M. Molotov, a large Yugoslavian airplane arrived at Istanbul airport direct from Belgrade today and left shortly afterward for the Soviet capital.

The plane remained only long enough to refuel.

Reliable information said the air attache had a personal message from Yugoslav Premier Gen. Dusan Simovic for Molotov. Well-informed sources expressed belief the message was of prime importance.

It was understood the plane will return to Ankara with the Yugoslavian minister in Moscow. The later, it was said, has been sent for to participate in conversations with Turkish officials and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden regarding the general Balkan situation.

Eden is expected here from Athens by plane on Friday.

Editor's Note: An International News Service dispatch from Istanbul yesterday reported plans for a military alliance embracing Britain, Yugoslavia and Greece.

Move In House To Make Sunday Movie Vote Harder

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 2.—A move was started today in the House to hinder referenda on Sunday movies by requiring that they be placed on the ballot only upon the petition of 51 per cent. of the registered voters.

At present a written petition signed by five per cent. of the highest vote cast for any candidate in the general or municipal election is sufficient to force the referendum question on the ballot.

The move was sponsored by Rep.

Group Opens Drive For Colonization In Palestine Area

Government Leaders, Others To Help Jewish Refugees Locate There

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, April 2.—More than 300 outstanding government officials, legislators, governors, educators, churchmen and civic leaders have joined in establishing the American Palestine committee under the chairmanship of U. S. Senator Robert F. Wagner to support the movement for developing Palestine as "an outpost of freedom and social justice" and preparing the Holy Land for large-scale colonization of hundreds of thousands of Jewish refugees from war-torn European lands during the post-war period. It was announced today at Senator Wagner's office.

The committee will endeavor to win public support for the program for the establishment of a Jewish National Home in Palestine.

Senator Charles L. McNary has been named co-chairman of the committee and William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, former Senator William H. King of Utah and Congressman John A. Ryan are serving as vice-chairmen.

A dinner in Washington, D. C., later this month will mark the launching of the committee's program of activities.

Among members of the newly-organized committee are Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes, Secretary of Agriculture Claude A. Wickard, Wendell L. Willkie, Alfred E. Smith, Clarence A. Dykstra, Defense Mediation Board chairman, Paul V. McNutt, Federal Security administrator, John M. ### Ice Battle Opens Ore Ship Season

Two Boats Clear Harbor, Three Stalled For Hours At Cleveland

CLEVELAND, O., April 2.—Cleveland Cliffs Iron company opened the ore shipping season from here yesterday, sending five vessels wallowing out into the ice off Cleveland harbor for Lake Superior ore ports.

Two of the five, the P. Schneider and the Colonel, got off to good starts and plowed along through the mushy ice. The other three, the Frontenac, Munising and Pioneer, found the going more difficult and lingered off the breakwater all yesterday afternoon.

The Coast Guard cutter Ossipee, commanded by Lieut. E. Desse, went out to look the situation over about 6 p. m. On his return, shortly after 9, Lieutenant Desse reported that all three were making slow but steady progress and that he believed they were out of danger, since the ice was not firm.

Eight of the company's ships got under way yesterday from other ports. They were the W. G. Mather, from Huron; the Pontiac, Sheaf, La Salle, Hennepin and Angeline from Toledo, and the Joliet and Marquette from Milwaukee. The company's Presque Isle and Cadillac were expected to sail from here today and the Negaunee is to follow soon.

Would Provide More Funds For Law Enforcement

Measure Introduced By Philadelphia Would Make Two Millions Available

By LEONARD APPELBAUM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, April 2.—More than $2,000,000 will be available to the State Liquor Control Board for enforcement purposes if a bill introduced by Rep. Joseph A. Scanlon, Philadelphia Democrat, is enacted into law.

Strictly enforcement of the liquor laws in Pennsylvania, at present seriously curtailed through lack of funds, was forecast if the measure is passed by the legislature.

Scanlon sponsored the amendment to the Liquor Control Act which would appropriate 20 per cent of the fees paid into the liquor license fund for the use of the liquor board "for enforcement purposes only." The measure now rests in the house committee on liquor control.

Officials of the board revealed that at present there are 174 enforcement agents in the employ of the board. They are assigned to 20,294 business places licensed to dispense intoxicants and it is their job to see that all board regulations are upheld.

NEARLY 80,000 MEN ARE IDLE IN FORD STRIKE

Police Commissioner Oscar G. Olander in Lansing to send "the full available manpower of the state police to Dearborn at once for the purpose of maintaining order."

A company spokesman said that the plant could not operate because not enough men to man the machines had been able to get through the extensive picket lines. The company said that less than 2,000 men were in the plant.

I. A. Capizzi, attorney for the motor company, charged that the CIO is out to wreck the defense program and seize the company. He said: "The communists are working with the CIO and vice versa, the two of them are out to wreck the defense program, and since Ford is able to do something . . . they are trying to wreck the company."

Latest Developments

The latest rapid-fire developments in the situation were as follows:

1—Harry Bennett, personnel director of the Ford company, said he talked to Henry Ford and the multi-millionaire announced "that the men who had caused this disturbance would never again work at the Ford Motor company." Bennett said: "There will be no violence as far as the company is concerned."

Bennett charged that some union pickets were drunk and asserted: "The governor has chosen to let these mobs of men take complete control of the city of Dearborn and insult women who are in no way responsible for this trouble."

Violence Flares

2—Violence flared at gate 4, where approximately 150 non-striking Ford workers engaged in a pitched battle with strikers.

3—At least 20 persons were injured in fights at gate 4 and other points where the UAW massed pickets numbering in the thousands.

4—Dearborn Mayor John L. Carey appealed to Governor Van Wagoner for state police aid, declaring the situation was out of control.

5—The governor ordered the state police to Dearborn at once to maintain order. About 175 state troopers, it was reported, will be dispatched to Dearborn, the men being drawn from various stations in the state.

6—Between 200 and 250 non-striking Ford employees applied at Dearborn police headquarters to serve as "volunteer" officers and it was announced the men would be deputized if necessary.

Would Permit Defense Work

7—Michael F. Widman, Jr., in charge of the union's organization drive, said he telegraphed OPM Directors William S. Knudsen and Sidney Hillman that the union would permit men needed on defense contracts to enter the plant if the government could obtain the co-operation of the management.

Widman said the union "was desirous of having our members who are engaged in defense work . . . to continue at work."

In one vicious battle at airport drive near the factory, the strikers totaled at least 5,000 men and fist fights were spontaneous and bricks were hurled with utter abandon at non-strikers.

At the gate 4 battle, the union asserted the men who came out of the plant were armed with iron wrenches, razors, clubs, metal disks and other weapons. The Ford men charged the strikers, who hurled bricks and charged back, but they were forced to give way when the Ford men charged a second time.

Completely Effective

Michael F. Widman, Jr., director of the union's Ford organizing committee, said:

"The strike is completely effective. The only persons in the plant this morning are members of the service department, who remained through the night, and some maintenance men in the glass building, the press steel building and the power house, whom the union requested to report for work."

The assistance of the federal government in the dispute will be given with the arrival some time today of Labor Conciliator James F. Dewey, who has been ill at his Chester, Pa., home with arthritis. It was Dewey who has shuttled back and forth between company and union officials seeking to settle their differences.

Meantime, Mayor John L. Carey of Dearborn said he dispatched a telegram to Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner and State Police Commissioner Oscar G. Olander, and demanded assistance in controlling the area around the plant.

Flagrant Violations

In his wire the mayor said that "Dearborn is the scene of flagrant disregard of all rights of citizens, both union and non-union."

streets are blocked off, citizens are being beaten and molested in their lawful attempts to return to work. Immediate action on your part is imperative."

The mayor said he wanted the governor to "send some state police in here right away."

It was said by officials of the company that work was going on at the Highland Park and Lincoln plants, the men reporting "as usual" today.

CIO Demands

Detroit, April 2—UAW-CIO officials today listed a five-point plan for settlement of the strike which closed down the Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Co. The points were:

1—Immediate reinstatement of all workers discharged because of union affiliation.

2—A wage increase of 10 cents an hour to bring wage rates of Ford workers up to rates employed by General Motors and Chrysler.

3—A seniority system to govern layoffs and rehiring.

4—A shop steward system to handle grievances as they arise.

5—Abolition of the company's so-called espionage system and the company service department.

Drivers of autos traveling faster than 50 miles an hour are involved in more accidents and traffic violations than those traveling 35 to 45 miles an hour, it has been found.

Penitentiary Blast Being Investigated

What Appears To Have Been Home-Made Bomb Explodes In Western Penitentiary

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, April 2—George C. Skidmore, former National Guard marksman now serving a life term for murder, was under observation today while Western Penitentiary officials investigated the explosion of what appeared to be a home-made bomb.

Warden Stanley P. Ashe expressed belief the crudely-fashioned bomb may have been intended to figure in an escape plot. Skidmore was stunned by the blast, which occurred on February 17, Ashe said, in the weaving shop.

A section of pipe 18 inches long and a half inch in diameter, and a machine bolt 20 inches long were found at the scene, the warden admitted, and an odor similar to that of an exploded firecracker led prison authorities to believe Skidmore had manufactured gunpowder.

Skidmore, who was sentenced to life five years ago for the holdup murder of a Pittsburgh gas station attendant, was trapped in Rattlesnake Mountain, Centre county, after the slaying but he shot his way out, killing one member of the posse. He was captured six years later in the west.

Lima Agents For German Steamships Are Under Arrest

(International News Service) LIMA, Peru, April 2—Peruvian authorities today arrested the Lima agents for the German steamers Leipzig and Monserrat, which were scuttled by their crews after an unsuccessful attempt to dash to sea from Callao harbor.

Joint managers of the German Lufthansa air lines were also under arrest and Peruvian troops were still in control of the airline's hangars and workshops, which they occupied yesterday.

The Lima office of the German transoceanic news agency also was closed by Peruvian officials.

Moose Lodge Has Election Tuesday

H. A. Shaffer Named Governor For Coming Year At Annual Election

New Castle Lodge No. 51, Loyal Order of Moose, had its annual election Tuesday which resulted in H. A. Shaffer being named governor for the coming year.

The new officers will be formally installed and will take office May 1. Other officers named, in addition to Governor Shaffer, are as follows: past governor, James L. Gibson; junior governor, Elmer Yoho; president, Elmer Ball; trustee, Fred Driscoll; treasurer, John F. McFadden; delegate to national convention, James L. Gibson.

MADE CERTAIN HE WOULD DIE

(International News Service) ROCHESTER, Pa., April 2—Kenneth Gordon, Jr., 21, made death a certainty, once he had decided not to go on living, police said today.

At the youth's side when his father found him with a bullet thru his heart, lay a 22 rifle and a note which, according to police, read: "I can't stand the pain any longer."

Then a physician noticed the victim's mouth was burned and found an open bottle of poison in the bathroom. Finally police said, the gas was turned on but not lighted. The father said his motherless son was to have gone to a hospital soon for treatment of a painful ailment. The father and one sister survive.

TWO SMALL FIRES OCCUR LAST NIGHT

City firemen were called into action twice Tuesday night, neither fire causing much damage.

At 10:05 o'clock they were summoned to the home of Mrs. Mary Prejsnar, 112 Wilder avenue, where burning soot in a chimney set fire to the wallpaper in the chimney. The loss was negligible.

At 11:59 o'clock, Kenneth Morrow, driving the automobile of his mother, Mrs. M. G. Morrow of R. D. No. 1, drove into Central station, where he smelled smoke. A short circuit was found in the car, firemen extinguishing the blaze promptly. Damage of around $10 was done.

For our part, all one can say for the modern, skimpy, form-fitting shirt is that it saves about a yard of cloth.

News Briefs From City Hall

Chief of police Willis G. McMullen today stated that identification of a reported suicide recently in Washington was possible through fingerprints taken in this city in 1936.

The man who allegedly swallowed carbolic acid was Max Falk who was arrested here for drunkenness. His fingerprints were sent to the FBI in Washington and when the prints of the suicide's fingers were taken in Washington his name was ascertained.

Eckles & Caruthers today received a sanction to construct a new gasoline station at 119 North Jefferson street and which the report stated will cost about $7,000. The present structure is being removed.

Three years ago 700 persons were employed on city-WPA projects and about 500 last year at this time. However, only 200 are working at present on the Big Run improvement project and the storm sewer between Jackson and Wilson avenues according to City Engineer Glenn R. Throop. He said that he does not know when widening of the State street hill will be started.

LEGION OF HONOR TO MEET THURSDAY

Members of the Legion of Honor of the Valley of New Castle Consistory will meet in the Cathedral Thursday evening for a regular meeting.

The new commander, Chris G. Walker, announces that election of a junior vice commander will take place at this time, along with other important business.

STRIKE AT ERIE

(International News Service) ERIE, Pa., April 2—Demanding 10-cents-an-hour more in their paychecks, 700 employees of the Continental Rubber Company were on strike today, with only office workers and shop foremen allowed to go through the picket line.

It has been estimated that when the metronome is set on the piano at 132, playing four notes to the tick, 31,680 notes have fallen from the performer's fingers in one hour of continuous playing.

BORACIC ACID AN ALL-AROUND AID IN HOME TREATMENTS

Yesterday, in discussing the need for keeping the medicine chest up to date, that is, filled with fresh medicines, I suggested iodine and rubbing alcohol as being first on the list of medicine chest necessities. Continuing with a list of items the well-managed medicine chest should have, I recommended a box of boracic acid powder often called boric acid. Its uses are almost limitless. It is soothing to a wound and has an antiseptic effect. It is often helpful as a compress on a burn. It can be used to soothe irritation, as in fact to almost any water solution treating sore or inflamed eyes or eyes irritated by smoke or dust or dirt. It is good dusting powder to use in a case of excessive perspiration. It gives relief in cases of painful piles. It is a helpful treatment for sunburn, for eczema, for poison ivy, for hives, in fact for almost any irritation.

Since burns are among the most common injuries in a home, I recommend that the medicine cabinet have tannic acid powder. Other treatments have been evolved for the treatment of burns, but tannic acid remains one of the best. If the burns are severe, it is invaluable, particularly if there is to be some delay in the arrival of a doctor. The solution should be prepared as needed by dissolving four teaspoonfuls of the powder in a glass of water. Gauze should be soaked in this solution and laid over the burned areas. This has the effect of tanning the raw parts and thereby forming a protective covering for them. A tube of tannic acid jelly is a handy thing to have in the kitchen where burned hands and burned arms are so common.

Baking soda is needed as much in the medicine chest as in the kitchen in many homes. It has almost as many uses as boric acid. Perhaps the first and foremost it provides relief from indigestion when half a teaspoonful is taken in a glass of hot water. Like boric acid it is good in cases of excessive perspiration. It relieves the itching caused by mosquito bites and hives. It can be used like a talcum powder after a bath. It makes a soothing application for burns. It is a cheap and good mouth wash.

Mineral oil should be in every medicine cabinet. Buy a good, rather heavy grade made by some reputable drug firm. It keeps the intestines regulated without being habit-forming. It is valuable in preparing foods, too, because it is non-fattening. Persons who need to keep down weight or who are threatened with diabetes can use it as a substitute for vegetable oils in salad dressings and cooking.

Tomorrow—the rest of the necessary articles for every home medicine chest.

Final Session Of Training School

The final session of the Leadership Training School which has been put on by the president and faculty of Westminster college, co-operating with the Lawrence County Sabbath School association, was held at the First Baptist church, this city, Tuesday evening at 7:45.

The opening devotional service was in charge of Rev. Paul Tarry, pastor of the Hungarian Baptist church, and the closing prayer was given by Dr. J. W. Neyman.

The subject for the final lecture on "The Old Testament" course that was presented by Dr. John Orr, professor of Bible of Westminster college, was "The Prophets and Their Books." The attendance and interest throughout the five lectures has been excellent. The instructor for the first session being Dr. R. F. Galbreath, president of Westminster; the second session, Rev. W. B. Jamison of Westminster faculty, and the last three sessions, Dr. Orr.

Business Men Hear National Commander Of Legion Tuesday

At the noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, when National Commander Milo J. Warner, department officers and local business men were guests of the Perry S. Gaston post, Commander Warner explained the purpose of the recent mission to England. This was at the instance of the national executive committee of the American Legion, and was for the purpose of keeping the American Legion informed as to the best methods they could use in building up the American Legion's home defense program and render all out aid to Britain as advocated by the Boston convention last year, he stated.

He said that the Legion mission spent 18 days in England, two days of which were spent with the army, one with the navy, and one with the Royal Air Force.

On its return to this country, following the report to the national executive committee, a resolution was adopted by the executive committee, stating that England could win if it got all the help possible from us, and that the best defense for this country was to see that all supplies and munitions get to England as quickly and in as great quantities as possible. This would be the best way to keep our own soldiers out of a foreign war.

Morale High
He stated that the morale of the English people was tremendous, and that they have definitely made up their minds to win this war.

In response to questions about various conditions, he stated that there was absolutely no labor trouble in England, that everyone is united in the determination to help his country win the war, and the workers realize that it is life and death emergency with them.

He said that the armed forces are anxious to come to grips with a foe to revenge the Dunkirk incident, and he said he would have to try to land any invading forces on the island.

He said that the people of England feel grateful for the assistance

Start Grading Work At Site Of Center

Construction Of N. Y. A. Center At Cunningham Park Is Continuing Steadily

With the moderation of the weather, arrangements have been made to grade the ground on the site of the National Youth Administration project, New Castle Boys Work Experience activity, at Cunningham park.

Tuesday, a diesel caterpillar tractor, with angle dozer attachment, consisting of a 12-inch blade and LeTourneau scoop, was brought to the plot, also a four-wheeled scraper, to assist in the grading.

The columns and trusses of one of the truss type steel buildings have been erected by four structural iron workers and six laborers.

The concrete blocks have been laid to complete the foundation for the second steel building, and the erection of the steel frame work has been commenced.

Carpenters are building porches over the entrances to the staff cottage, infirmary building and administration building, states John Shuler, the project engineer. These workers are also placing ceiling insulation on the various frame buildings.

Painting has commenced on the ceiling work of the frame buildings. Two barracks and the recreation building have been primed, also the eve closers in the recreation building, and four barracks have been primed, also the window sashes and inserts in all the buildings, with the exception of the staff dormitory.

The painting is being done by the boys of N. Y. A. under the direction of J. P. Morgan, painter foreman.

Farm Show Awards Paid Exhibitors

Over $30,000 Paid Out For 1941 Farm Show Awards, Light Reveals

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 2.—Of the $42,918 offered in prizes to exhibitors at the 1941 Pennsylvania farm show, $34,489.25 was paid in awards. Secretary of Agriculture John H. Light, who is also chairman of the farm show commission, announced. This amount is about $1,100 greater than the sum paid to exhibitors in the 1940 show, and represents about 80 per cent of the amount offered, which is about the same percentage paid out the past several years. The reason for the discrepancy is that there are not sufficient prize winners in some of the classifications, Light said.

ELLWOOD CITY, April 2.—Members of the Three C club were welcomed at the home of Mrs. Arthur Miller, of North Sewickley.

Auction bridge held the attention of the guests with the nice awards going to Mrs. Edward Boone, Mrs. Scott Anderson and Miss Lulu Daubenspeck. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Walter Piper and Mrs. LaVerne Swick in serving a tempting lunch.

On Friday, April 11, another meeting will be held at the Piper home at Frisco, with Miss Daubenspeck as hostess.

BAPTIST GROUP NAMES LEADERS

ELLWOOD CITY, April 2.—A pleasant event of Tuesday evening took place at the First Baptist church when members of Group Two of the Women's Missionary Society assembled for a three dinner. Miss Lulu Trigg was a special guest.

Devotions were led by Mr. Garfield Thomas after which the following officers were chosen: Captain, Mrs. Pearl Welham; and secretary, Mrs. Abbie Walton. A portion of the study book, "Dangerous Opportunities," was reviewed by Mrs. Blanche Young.

PRAYER GROUP AT ELLWOOD CHURCH

ELLWOOD CITY, April 2.—Nineteen members of the Wurttemberg and Ellwood U. P. church mission groups gathered on Tuesday morning at the local church for the monthly prayer group.

Mrs. Harry Furey led the devotions and Mrs. William Huber, of Wurttemberg, contributed a lovely solo. Letters from Mr. and Mrs. Neal McLanahan, missionaries to Egypt, were read.

On Tuesday, May 6, the next session will be held at Wurttemberg.

MRS. PAUL KUBEN HAS CLUB SESSION

ELLWOOD CITY, April 2.—At her home in Franklin avenue, Mrs. Paul Kuben hospitably entertained members of her bridge club last evening.

After several hours of play, the attractive prizes were given to Miss Helen Houk and Miss Letitia Clyde. The hostess was aided in serving a dainty lunch by her mother, Mrs. Homer Christie.

On Tuesday, April 15, Miss Helen Houk, Clover avenue, will entertain.

MRS. CLIFTON JONES HAS FORTNIGHT CLUB

ELLWOOD CITY, April 2.—Mrs. Clifton Jones of Wurttemberg was a gracious hostess to members of the Fortnight club last evening at the Harris residence on Wayne avenue.

Bridge was enjoyed at two tables with the high score award going to Miss Ida Cooper. After tempting refreshments were served, members departed to meet again in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Owens, Sixth street.

With LIGHT

PAINTER ED and PAINTER JOE

Did a job—'twas quite a show!

Pastel tints of gorgeous hues,

Delicate pinks and powder blues.

But, alas, 'twas evening . . . guests came in . . .

What dim lighting did was a terrible sin!

The walls looked gray, the guests were glum,

The beauty had departed with the light of the sun.

A LIGHT CONDITIONING MAN came 'round next day.

He started changing lights in an expert way . . .

An adapter unit here and a plastic shade there . . .

His magic touch reached everywhere!

Now—when the sun goes down and the lights go on,

It's a beautiful picture like a gorgeous dawn . . .

Each color flows in its pre-planned hue.

Guests are cheerful and complimentary, too!

Miss Mary Humphrey To Complete Term For Mrs. Hilda Crum

ELLWOOD CITY, April 2.—Miss Mary Humphrey, retired principal of the Hartman school, is enroute home from Florida, where she has been vacationing for sometime, to complete the present term of Mrs. Hilda Dahl Crum, principal and first grade teacher of the Ewing Park school.

Mrs. Crum recently tendered her resignation to the Board of Education, planning to move to Wheeling, W. Va. where her husband has been transferred. Her resignation was tabled as the directors did not wish to elect a new teacher at the present time since the annual decrease in first grade enrollment is expected to make the hiring of an additional teacher unnecessary. Miss Humphrey will complete the present term.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM FOR JUNIOR HIGH

ELLWOOD CITY, April 2.—Three plays, "The Mystery of the Berry Box," "The Lamb Went Out" and "The Little Cousin," were presented by the Junior Dramatic club at the junior high school assembly program this morning under the direction of Mrs. Lois Williams.

The program also included piano solos by Miss Janet Patterson and a tap dance by Nancy Elder accompanied by Elizabeth Owens.

Plans were completed for Easter events.

ELLWOOD CITY, April 2.—Officers and teachers of the Inman Reformed church gathered last night for the monthly business meeting with C. E. Powell in charge.

Plans were completed for the Easter pageant and cantata and a special Easter offering for church needs will be taken. Another meeting will be held on Tuesday, May 6.

Presbyterian Church Working Guild Meets

ELLWOOD CITY, April 2.—For their annual business session, the Working Guild of the First Presbyterian church assembled last night at the church.

Mrs. Ben Stamm was named president of the organization for the new year and Mrs. T. B. Magee will serve as secretary-treasurer. Most satisfactory financial reports were submitted.

After the meeting, the further organization of a united assembly of all women's groups of the church was discussed at length under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Haines. The following committee to promote the new unit was appointed: Mrs. J. Ellis Bell, chairman, Mrs. Walter Baisch, Mrs. George B. Wilson, Mrs. Moss Landersbaugh and Mrs. Raymond Humphrey.

APPLY EARLY, IF LAWNS NEED HELP THIS SPRING

While it is natural for homeowners to be most concerned about their lawns in the spring, adequate fall treatment would relieve them of most spring worries.

Liming and fertilizing are the first operations to put into effect where lawns need help this spring.

If no lime has been used for several years, apply 1 bag of pulverized lime to each 1,000 square feet of lawn area. If the soil is sweet, no lime is needed. Where there is any doubt of soil sweetness, tests should be made to determine the extent of soil acidity. This can be done at the Agricultural Extension Office.

Spring fertilizing has several disadvantages as compared to fall applications. To be effective, spring applications must be made early, as soon as growth starts. Late treatments tend to encourage crabgrass and other annual weeds.

A mixture of 100 pounds of 4-12-4 or 4-16-4 and 100 pounds of soybean meal or cottonseed meal or tankage is excellent for early spring fertilization. Apply uniformly at the rate of 20 pounds to 1,000 square feet.

SPRING IS BEST TIME TO PLANT ASPARAGUS

Asparagus is found in very few gardens, but more gardeners could profitably establish a bed to produce this delicious vegetable.

Fifty to one-hundred well-grown roots will plant an area large enough to provide for a family of five or more. This crop is planted in early spring according to the following suggestions:

A deep, well-drained sandy loam is ideal. However, asparagus has been grown successfully on practically all the soils of Pennsylvania, provided drainage was good. Stony soils and soils that bake easily hinder growth and produce crooked shoots which reduce the market value, but the quality is not affected for home use.

Since asparagus occupies the soil for many years and no rotation is involved, it is very important that the soil be as rich as possible. Some growers give the soil special preparation a year or two in advance of planting by applying manure liberally and growing green manuring crops. Organic matter in the soil is very important.

The roots from crown to tip should be at least 12 inches long. In this state, spring is the best time to plant asparagus. For commercial purposes, a plow is used to open a furrow and a shovel to dress the bottom to a uniform depth, usually 8 to 10 inches depending on the soil. The lighter the soil, the deeper the planting.

The rows ordinarily average 5 feet apart with the roots, when placed by hand, from 18 to 20 inches apart in the row. In small home plantings in heavy soils, a trench 12 or more inches deep usually is made and filled to within 8 inches of the surface with topsoil mixed with rotted manure and a little commercial fertilizer. The roots then are covered lightly with soil and left until growth begins before more soil is added.

As the plants grow, the trench is filled gradually with soil. Quite often, ordinary cultivation gradually closes the trench. In gardens where space is limited the roots sometimes are placed 18 inches apart in the row and the rows spaced 3 feet apart.

FIT COLLARS FOR HORSES—COMFORT AND EFFICIENCY

Good management includes proper fitting of collars and harness. Horses and mules work best when comfortable.

A collar will seldom fit two different horses; each horse needs his own collar. The collar must be fitted to the horse and not the horse to any collar that happens to be available. A properly fitted collar is helpful in preventing sore necks and shoulders.

Collars of various types have been designed for horses with different shaped shoulders and necks. For example, horses with straight shoulders and wide necks may work well in a half or full sweet collar, while horses with well-shaped, sloping shoulders can wear a regular or fullface collar.

A properly fitted collar when pressed solidly back against the shoulder leaves just enough room to pass your fingers up and down along side the neck between the front edge of the collar and the horse's neck. At the bottom there should be room for three fingers of your flat hand turned upright between the bottom of collar and the windpipe, which means about 2 to 2½ inches space between the throat of the horse and the bottom of the collar when the collar is pressed solidly back against the shoulders.

Fulling demonstrations conducted by the Agricultural Extension Service have shown clearly that many horses are fitted with collars that are too short and which choke when the horses pull.

The width of the collar is just as important as the length. A wide collar is often responsible for galling shoulders because it slips from side to side. Just enough room is needed to push the fingers between the neck and collar.

Correct hame adjustment is important. If the hames do not lay in the collar seam for the full length of the collar, they do not fit. If hames are either too long or too short, they cannot be adjusted to fit the collar satisfactorily. The remedy is a set of hames that does fit the collar. Keep the collars clean of dirt and sweat to prevent sore necks and shoulders. Wash the horse's shoulders and neck with strong salt water solution to toughen and prevent galling.

ENRICHED FLOUR GIVES EXTRA FOOD VALUES

From now on, homemakers everywhere are going to hear about enriched flour.

Wheat flour always has been the most versatile energy-yielding food, but now with its enriched qualities it brings to the American dietary some of the essential B-vitamins, as well as iron, needed to insure buoyant, abundant health.

Enriched flour, whatever its brand, is wheat flour to which has been added at least 1.6 milligrams thiamin, 6.15 milligrams niacin, and both essential B-vitamins, and 6.15 milligram of iron for each pound of flour. This is the standard developed cooperatively by the Millers' National Federation and the Federal Food and Drug Administration.

Thiamin, or B1, is popularly called the "appetite vitamin." It has to do with the health of the nervous system and the digestive tract as well as being essential to growth, says Miss Julia C. Markle, home economics extension representative of Lawrence county.

Although enriched flour has extra food value, it looks, tastes and bakes like the excellent white flour homemakers have used for years. Even though this new flour has the essential vitamin and the iron value of whole wheat, it does not include them in the amounts as found in the whole grain flours. Those who are accustomed to eating whole grain breads and cereals should continue to do so.

White flour contains some iron but not so much as is needed to insure good nutrition. Surveys have shown that many American diets are low in iron. Since wheat naturally contains iron, it seemed sensible to add enough more so that flour would really contribute important amounts.

Most family flours are being enriched, according to Miss Markle. The label on the bag will carry the words Enriched Flour, in addition to the brand name. It is important for consumers to know that only when a flour is labeled Enriched Flour does it contain the amounts of essential B-vitamins and iron required by the standard.

The cost of enriched flour will be only slightly higher than other wheat flour, according to reports. Millers are making every effort to keep the cost of the flour at a minimum, for they want it to reach the greatest possible number of families.

Ruel Talks About Rookie Pitchers

Hard To Get Young Pitchers To Pitch And Not Throw, Veteran Says

Thinks That Bill Dietrich Of White Sox Team Has Got Stuff To Be Great

By JIMMY CONZELMAN
International News Service Staff Writer
PASADENA, Cal., April 2.—"If you can get young fellows to pitch instead of throw, you have licked one of the toughest problems in the development of a pitching staff," Harold "Muddy" Ruel, coach of the Chicago White Sox, said today. "The inexperienced pitcher wants to beat down the batter with brute strength. That's hard to do."

The scholarly, soft-spoken Ruel joined the White Sox in 1935 after a career in the major leagues that began in 1915. Jimmy Dykes, Sox manager, cited him as the credit for the excellent work of the pitchers. Just the other day Connie Mack told me the game "needed more coaches like Ruel."

Ruel Has Ideas
On the subject of "throwing it past" hitters, Ruel had positive ideas.

"That isn't pitching," he explained. "That's power throwing and power throwing means the pitcher isn't relaxed. Remember you can strain with the mind or even the heart, but to be effective in the box, the body has to be relaxed."

Ruel pointed out that batters change the timing of their swing against different pitchers. Consciously or unconsciously a hitter remembers how fast the pitcher throws a ball and swings accordingly. Unless speed is used properly, Ruel says, the man at the plate will solve it.

Take Bill Dietrich, one of our own pitchers. Ruel would think that Bob Feller, Dietrich has the fastest ball in the major leagues. When Bill came up he was a thrower. He wasn't relaxed. Wanted to beat down with his speed all the time. That's a mistake. Brute strength should be used only when the pitcher has the advantage over a hitter."

Talks About Dietrich
Dietrich learned quickly. In 1937 he pitched a no-hit game. Both Dykes and Ruel believe Dietrich has arrived and have every hope he'll be one of the club's leading pitchers this season.

Some pitchers attempt to develop a faster ball than their physical limitations permit. The result is an injured arm.
"Where a pitcher hasn't the muscle and body to stand more speed," said Ruel, "we try to make his natural fast ball more effective by improving his curve and change of pace. After all, an arm is as good as it is. You can improve the mechanical defects but you can't do much with the physical."

"Muddy" doesn't care for unorthodox deliveries. He believes such methods as throwing the ball to one side and the arm to the other merely handicap pitchers. It prevents them from reaching the efficiency of coordinated pitching motion.

"Anyway," says Ruel, "freak deliveries will fool only average hitters. Average hitters are influenced by body motion. Good batters aren't. They hit at the ball instead of the motion."

Horne Winner; In Semi-Finals
Niles Battler Shows Plenty Of Class; Shelton Bell Also Wins Bout

BOSTON, April 2.—George "Sonny" Horne, Niles' crack mitt slinger, has moved up closer to amateur boxing's highest honors, advancing to the semi-finals of the A. A. U. tournament.

Horne, who has fought in New Castle numerous times, defeated Robert Satterfield, Chicago, last night, in a torrid bout. Horne displayed that he can take a sock and come back fighting. He observed a wicked whack in the opening but came back to send the Illinois lad reeling.

Another Ohioan who has displayed his ring talent in New Castle, Shelton Bell, Youngstown, also advanced to the semi-finals by defeating Vance Basler, Iowa City, Iowa, by a TKO. The referee stopped the bout in the first chapter.

Dozen Centurions In National League

Carl Hubbell Leads Parade With 227 Wins; "Diz" Has Best Percentage

Exactly a dozen National Leaguers are centurions, pitchers who have won 100 or more pitching victories in the majors.

Carl Hubbell, on his last legs, heads the parade with 227 victories, followed by roly poly Freddy Fitzsimmons, who has strung together 208 wins.

"Diz" Dean, winner of 150 triumphs, heads the list in percentage with .644. Hubbell comes second with .631 and Lon Warneke third with .627.

"Bucky" Walters, Cincy artist, needs two mound decisions to reach the century mark.

Fr. Schirra Is Re-Elected Head Of City League

Six Teams Present At First Meeting, Samuels, Donovan And Babovsky Also Re-elected

NEXT MEETING IS ON APRIL 15

Rev. Fr. Peter M. Schirra was re-elected last night at the City Baseball league initial meeting to serve his third term as the league president. Also re-elected with Fr. Schirra were the other officials of the league last season, Joe Samuels as vice president, Michael J. Donovan as secretary and Michael "Jake" Babovsky as treasurer.

There were six teams represented at the meeting, with managers as follows: Elder A. C. Joe O'Leary; Slovaks, Steve Gonda; Ryantown; Joe Samuels; Croton, Colalucia; Lawrence Indies, Mike Russo, and Red Sox, Bob Brest.

St. Josephs Drop
The following teams failed to send managers to the session: West Pittsburg, West Side Tigers, Moose club and St. Josephs, but the latter team will definitely not be in the league this season. It was announced that managers of the other teams must notify Secretary Donovan in a week or 10 days of their intentions to enter the 1941 league. Donovan can be reached by calling phone 5196-M.

Next Meeting April 15
The next meeting of the league managers and officials will be held Tuesday, April 15, at the St. Joseph parish hall and all managers must have their $10.00 franchise money with them at the meeting. If possible, 1941 contracts will be given the managers at the April 15 meeting.

President Schirra in a talk following his re-election stressed the point that he would have to have better co-operation from the teams this year than in the past. Heavy business duties will keep Fr. Schirra busy and the teams and officials of the loop must give their support.

An effort will be made to have at least a fast eight-team loop this summer. No opening date was discussed at the meeting, but it will be around the first of May.

Sylvan Heights League To Meet
President Geno Veri Calls Session For Sunday Afternoon At Golf Course

President Geno Veri of the Sylvan Heights Golf League has called a meeting of all team managers for Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Sylvan Heights clubhouse, when plans for the coming season will be outlined, and further arrangements made for the opening of the league early next month.

Eleven teams have already entered their names, and there is a place for one more team. President Veri announced, Any team desirous of entering the league is asked to have a representative at the meeting Sunday.

Trout Streams To Be Improved
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 2.—Here's good news for fishermen! 300 miles of trout streams located within the state forests will be improved during the present year, Secretary G. Albert Stewart of the department of forests and waters, announced today. This is three times the number of miles improved last year and more than seven times that of 1939. The work will be performed by the boys in C. C. camps whose work program is laid out by the department. This stream improvement work is designed to create conditions favorable for the preservation and propagation of fish life.

Trout Streams Call To 500,000 Anglers In State On April 15

HARRISBURG, April 2.—Pennsylvania's trout streams are singing a siren song to the dyed-in-the-wool anglers. The season opens April 15 and extends until July 31. In that long interval every trout stream in the state will be well-whipped by bait and fly casters and some good catches may be expected, according to information received by the state department of commerce.

In preparation for the opening of the season a fleet of tank trucks owned by the board of fish commissions is being operated on a spring stocking schedule entailing the distribution of more than 1,200,000 brook, brown and rainbow trout over legal six-inch size. Some of them run well over a foot, the fish commission announces.

This stocking program, the heaviest spring distribution on record, extends to virtually all the major trout waters in Pennsylvania. Owing to unfavorable weather conditions prevailing on many streams last fall, trout that would normally have been planted during the autumn stocking program were held over at the hatcheries and are being distributed this spring.

Heavy snowfalls, particularly in northern counties, bring the prospect of high water for the season opening in that territory. On the watersheds of many of the trout streams in the northern tier counties and in northeastern Pennsylvania, snow to a depth of 20 inches lay on the ground for long weeks but is gradually being dissipated and will be well melted by the opening day.

If streams are running high on the first day, a very probable favorite bait with the trout fisherman will be the small garden worm—frequently referred to as the "garden hackle." Die-hard fly fishermen, however, may resort as in other years to the wet fly nymph and streamer fly fished deep. Minnows and pine sawyers, found in rotting pine logs in the timber country, also will probably be given strong play.

Certain to draw thousands of anglers on opening day will be the fine limestone streams of Centre and Clinton counties. These "ace" streams—Spring creek, Bald Eagle creek and Penn's creek in Centre county, and Fishing creek in Clinton—above Larnar annually rank as the heaviest trout producers in the state. Other "big waters" popular with the trout fishing fraternity in the state include the Brokenstraw in Warren county, the Lackawaxen in Wayne and Pike counties, the Yellow Breeches in Cumberland county, Pig Pine creek in Potter and Tusca counties and the Kishacoquillas in Mifflin county. Brown and rainbow trout predominate in all of these streams.

But every section of the state—from the Poconos on the east to Cook Forest in the west, from Potter county to the Mason-Dixon line—has its trout fishing. Brook trout predominate in streams in the more mountainous areas.

And the sucker fisherman is already enjoying some exceptionally fine sport in waterways of the state at this season of the year, when there is still ice water in the streams and the suckers congregate at the mouths of smaller streams on their spawning migrations to headwaters.

Where these smaller streams unite with larger ones you will find groups of men—and women—now, often sitting behind a log fire built on the bank, enjoying the sport of angling for suckers. And the fish themselves are firm of flesh and sweet tasting at this time of the year.

Tex Carleton and Curt Davis start the 1941 major league season in the century rank. Both peggers have won exactly 100 victories. ...

Bits of this and that—Madcap Maxie Baer has taken a flyer on himself. He has a wager that he will tag Lou Nova by the fifth heat, Friday night. ... The coming fight, incidentally, will be televised for a New York movie house. ... Marquette has opened spring training drills under their new football tutor, Tom Sidham. With nine lettermen lost and 10 of the vets returning of draft age, Tom isn't too optimistic. ...

Church League Dinner Thursday

St. Vitus And St. George Greeks Will Be Honored, So Will First U. P. Juniors

Preparations have been made at the "Y" for the big basketball banquet that will start at 6:15 o'clock. The church league championship teams, St. Vitus in Class AA, the St. George Greeks in Class A and the First U. P. Junior team, along with the House league champs will be honored at the dinner. The toastmaster will be Dr. G. S. Bennett of the First Christian church.

Grover C. Washabaugh, coach of the Westminster college basketball team will be the principal speaker and will no doubt have a splendid message for the church league boys. Dinner reservations should be made by this evening at the "Y." It was announced by Physical Director Bill Winter, All members of the Senior league and Junior league, First U. P. champs are eligible to attend. No doubt Dr. Bennett who has been connected with the church league for the past 14 years will also have a fine talk for the boys.

Golfing Greats Are In Atlanta

All Of Nation's Golfing Stars Are Gathered For Start Of Master's Tourney Today

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 2.—Golf-dom's hand-picked half hundred were gathered here today to slug it out beginning tomorrow for the masters championship over the National Golf club course, which Georgia's own Bobby Jones brought into being in 1934 and since has matured into some sort of a shrine. In so short a time this setting and this tournament have assumed prestige and popularity approaching the peak built up over many years by the national open. This event, the masters is supposed to be closest to the ideal for such competition.

Special Match Today
So tomorrow fifty or a few more golfers who have established themselves among the greats of the past or present will renew the battle here in a leisurely sort of way starting play around noon and going through only 18 holes a day through Sunday.

Everybody had arrived by today, not overlooking Lawson Little, the open champion, Byron Nelson, the national professional titleholder, Jimmy Demaret, the defending champion, and Sam Snead who has been bracketed with Nelson at 7-to-1 in the wagering to win the eighth running of the championship.

An extra added attraction and preliminary to the main fire works was a scheduled 18-hole match today between Bobby Jones and Tommy Armour on one side and Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen on the other—renewing their recent clash in Nassau for the British Red Cross. No one was quite sure whether this event would materialize, but everybody was waiting for it.

Times Have Changed Connie Mack Opines

Back In 1888 Only 15 Players Were Taken To Training Camp, Mack Says

Athletics Hope To Finish In First Division This Season, Have Stronger Team

By JIMMY CONZELMAN
International News Service Staff Writer
LOS ANGELES, April 1.—The trainer beat a four-four rhythm on the biceps and beltoids of a pitcher who had gone three innings. A helper changed steaming towels on the peribolus thigh of an infielder. Somebody yelled for tape. Another for a comb. Connie Mack shook his head at the locker room scene and smiled.

"It's different now," he said. If Connie Mack referred to his Philadelphia Athletics he was right. It might be a different ball team from any he's sent to the wars since those championship days of '29, '30 and '31.

The Athletics squad I've been watching this spring isn't a jaiyop. It's a fair-to-middling machine with plenty of bright gadgets. Field play with the old college try. Crisp hits going for one or maybe four. Steady pitching. And confidence? Yes, sir. Plenty of confidence. Confidence enough to beat the brains out of some of these other clubs out here.

Had Fifteen Men
But Mack said no. He didn't mean that. What he was talking about was spring practice, specifically the difference between the 1941 brand and say the 1888. That was the year Connie went south on his first spring training trip. He was a catcher and not a very good one if you take his word. Washington was the club.

"We took only 15 men that spring instead of the 40 odd nowadays," said the veteran manager who has passed by eight years the Biblical span of three score and ten. "Our night stops were made in third class hotels. The better ones didn't want us. But I do remember one exception.

The exception was a first class spot where a dubious management finally agreed to put up the team. I club officials guaranteed that the players wouldn't mingle with the guests.

Everything then was on the American plan, room and meals. Mack went on. "As ball players, we got little attention at the first meal. The second and last might have been the same if it weren't for old Ted Sullivan's silver dollar.

Sullivan, late advance man for the Comiskey-McGraw world baseball tour in 1912 and at that time a team mate of Mack's, used a trick to build up the meat and potatoes. The waiter started serving Sullivan dropped a silver dollar alongside his plate. Flipping it a tip, the waiter pepped up and legsed in oversize plates of vitals. After desert Sullivan pocketed the dollar and hurried out.

Mack laughed. "That silver dollar many times and in many cities, made the difference between a good meal and a bad one," he said.

Times Have Changed
Two weeks for spring training and two men to a lower berth. Were other drawbacks in Mack's time. Yes, he said, times have changed.

"Players, too," he added earnestly. "There's less dissipation. They report in better shape. They dress better. They've got more schooling. That might account for a lot of things."

I think you'll finish fifth, Mr. Mack.

Radiators Will Meet On Friday

The first meeting of the season for the National Radiator softball team will take place Friday night at the Shady-side home of Dundo Ambrosia at 7:30 o'clock. All of the 1940 players are asked to attend the meeting.

The following should be present: Peasby Fornari, Roger Maggie, Greg Ross, Edmundson, Rhodes, Joe Mazzeri, Sam Copple, Nickie Genovick, Ben Godano, S. Mooney, Joe Cooper, Eddie Hilton, Dado and Nickie Ross.

HOUSE LEAGUE GAME

The second game of the New Castle "Y" House basketball league championship series will be played tonight at 8 o'clock with the Celtics meeting the Globetrotters. If the Celtics win, they will be the champions, as they have won one game of the current series already.

Ray Shalk was the only major league catcher to make a putout at all four bases in one game.

Nova Is Favored Over Maxie Baer

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 2.—Odds were 7 to 5 today that Lou Nova will beat former heavyweight champion Max Baer in their 12-round rumput at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Nova concluded his workouts with four rounds of boxing at a local gym yesterday, but he was none too impressive. Baer will finish his heavy work this afternoon by sparring four rounds at his Lakewood, N. J., training camp.

NAME WAS OMITTED

Through an oversight the name of Francis Pitzer, former Shenango High star, was omitted from the list of tourney winners in the recent City-County tourney, the young man being the most valuable in the Class B division, an honor that fits the young man only too well.
